2022 Buick Encore Review

By Colin Ryan

Updated January 30, 2025

Pros

- Quiet cabin
- Small footprint
- Apple CarPlay/Android Auto is standard

Cons

- Driver assistance features cost extra
- Soon to be replaced by a new generation

What's New?

- A fresh turbocharged 1.4-liter engine is installed
- Trim levels reduced from two to one
- Front seatbacks gain map pockets

The 2022 Buick Encore is an almost-premium subcompact crossover. We say almost-premium because the Encore takes the mainstream Chevrolet Trax and makes it more luxurious, like refining the suspension and adding acoustic treatment for a quieter cabin. If someone liked the Trax's size and overall shape but wished it was a little classier, the Encore does the trick while staying within the realms of affordability.

2022 Buick Encore Depreciation

Annual Depreciation is an estimation of what your vehicle's value might be over time based on an average of similar vehicles. Estimations are calculated by comparing Kelley Blue Book Private Party Values of vehicles similar to yours over time, as well as forecasts from Manheim Auction data comparing current and projected auction values against current Kelley Blue Book Private Party and Trade-In Values. This is not a guarantee of actual depreciation. Local weather conditions, market factors and driver performance will also impact your vehicle's actual depreciation.

2022 Buick Encore Safety

Safety Features & Technology

10 Airbags

Despite being a small crossover, the Buick Encore packs a generous amount of airbags. These include head-curtain airbags for both rows as well as knee airbags for the front occupants.

Blind-spot monitoring with rear cross-traffic alert

This is part of the optional $495 Safety Package, along with (weirdly) a 120-volt outlet.

Forward-collision warning

Part of the $695 Safety Package II, which also includes lane departure warning, front/rear parking sensors, and rain-sensing wipers. Many new cars have these features as standard.

Action shot taken during the driver-side small overlap frontal crash test.

The dummy's position in relation to the door frame, steering wheel, and instrument panel after the crash test indicates that the driver's survival space was maintained reasonably well.

The frontal and side curtain airbags worked well together to keep the head from coming close to any stiff structure or outside objects that could cause injury.

The driver's space was maintained reasonably well, and risk of injuries to the dummy's legs and feet was low.

View of the vehicle after the crash showing the airbags and damage to the occupant compartment.

The rear passenger dummy's head came close to contacting the front seatback, which increases the risk of head injuries.

The rear passenger dummy injury values indicate a moderate risk of injury to the head or neck and a likely risk of injury to the chest. During the crash, the shoulder belt remained in an ideal position on the dummy's chest.

The rear passenger dummy's lap belt remained in the ideal position on the pelvis.

During rebound the rear passenger dummy's head moved outside of the side curtain airbag. The head protection is inadequate and puts the head at risk of possible contact with outside objects.
