By Eric Brandt
Updated January 30, 2025

Pros

- Many standard features
- Roomy for its size
- Wireless smartphone connectivity

Cons

- Weak base engine
- Firm ride

What's New?

- More standard features
- 11-inch infotainment screen
- Refreshed styling

The 2024 Chevrolet Trailblazer is one of the smallest and most affordable SUV offerings in the Chevy lineup. It's a competitive subcompact SUV because of its generous list of standard features, a spacious interior, and perks like wireless Android Auto and Apple CarPlay. Some of the top rivals of the Trailblazer include the Honda HR-V, Kia Seltos, and Mazda CX-30.

2024 Chevrolet Trailblazer Safety

Safety Features & Technology

Chevy Safety Assist

This system brings driver assistance features to every new Chevy Trailblazer. It includes forward collision warning with automatic emergency braking and pedestrian detection, automatic high beams, lane-keeping assistance, and lane-departure warning.

Teen Driver

For those unsettling times when the newest driver in the family goes out solo, the Teen Driver feature allows owners to set various parameters, such as audio system volume. It also encourages seatbelt use and produces an in-vehicle report card showing things like distance driven and maximum speed. It's standard across the 2024 Trailblazer subcompact SUV lineup.

Driver Confidence package

There's a version of this optional bundle for every trim level. It includes Lane Change Alert with Side Blind Zone Alert (together, they amount to blind-spot monitoring) and rear cross-traffic alert. They help the driver accomplish safe lane changes and look out for anything approaching while reversing the 2024 Trailblazer out of a parking space.

Small overlap front

The small overlap front evaluation consists of a driver-side and a passenger-side component.
If the results of the two evaluations differ, then the combined small overlap rating is equal to the lower rating.

Driver-side

Tested vehicle: 2021 Buick Encore GX Select 4-door 4wd
Rating applies to 2021-26 models built after July 2020

The Buick Encore GX was introduced in the 2020 model year as a replacement for the Buick Encore, while the 2021 Chevrolet Trailblazer returned after an 11-year absence from the market as a replacement for the Chevrolet Trax. Two small overlap frontal tests of the Encore GX were conducted, one by the Institute and the other by General Motors. Ratings are based on both tests, but the vehicle specifications shown below are based on the Institute's test.

Overall driver-side evaluation	G
Structure and safety cage	G
Driver injury measures
Head/neck	G
Chest	G
Hip/thigh	G
Lower leg/foot	G
Driver restraints and dummy kinematics	G

Action shot taken during the small overlap frontal crash test.

The dummy's position in relation to the door frame, steering wheel, and instrument panel after the crash test indicates that the driver's survival space was maintained very well.

The frontal and side curtain airbags worked well together to keep the head from coming close to any stiff structure or outside objects that could cause injury.

The driver's space was maintained well, and risk of injuries to the dummy's legs and feet was low.

Making roads and vehicles safer for everyone.

The Insurance Institute for Highway Safety (IIHS) is an independent, nonprofit scientific and educational organization dedicated to reducing deaths, injuries and property damage from motor vehicle crashes through research and evaluation and through education of consumers, policymakers and safety professionals.

The Highway Loss Data Institute (HLDI) shares and supports this mission through scientific studies of insurance data representing the human and economic losses resulting from the ownership and operation of different types of vehicles and by publishing insurance loss results by vehicle make and model.

Both organizations are wholly supported by these auto insurers and insurance associations.
